TWITTER CEO JACK DORSEY JOINS THE BITCOIN AWARENESS GAME

With Twitter CEO Jack Dorsey joining the game, the payment has now reached around 2,860,000 satoshis, which is approximately equal to US$100 at press time. Till now around 150 people have joined this Bitcoin awareness spreading game, which is believed to have become a global exercise by now.

Matt Odell, a cryptocurrency podcast host, is believed to have nudged the Twitter CEO to participate in the Bitcoin awareness spreading “lightning torch” game. Matt wrote to Dorsey on Twitter:

“You ready to carry the torch? Send me an invoice for 2,860,000 sats.”

Dorsey responded to Matt’s tweet next day. He posted a similar invoice for requesting and retrieving a certain amount of funds. Once this was posted by the Twitter CEO, the podcast host Matt Odell sent him the necessary funds. Dorsey tweeted:

“Cool example of #BitcoinTwitter experimenting on the lightning network.”

Twitter CEO didn’t hold the lightning torch for long period of time. He passed it on to Lightning Labs CEO Elizabeth Stark.

Conclusion

The moot point of this game is to spread awareness of the Bitcoin technology as a suitable payment method. In fact, it seems Dorsey is a believer in Bitcoin technology. While responding to a user, he said he doesn’t hold any other cryptocurrency other than Bitcoin. Twitter CEO said:

“Bitcoin is resilient. Bitcoin is principled. Bitcoin is native to internet ideals. And it’s a great brand.”
